LIVESTOCK PHOTOGRAPHY

Pricing for Livestock photography is done based on quantity. Volume discount offered on shoots of 10 or more head. I charge two rates - one to photograph the animal and one to buy the digital file. Therefore, if you aren't happy - I make less, hence motivation.

I grew up in the livestock industry, competing on a national level and exhibiting cattle across the United States. So, in a way, livestock photography is where I started and it is an important part of my company.

Digital photography has greatly changed the scheme of livestock marketing. I feel it is necessary to make clear that I intend to deliver images that will sell semen/embryos and individuals based solely on the genuine quality of that animal. Please do NOT ask me to make unethical enhancements or alterations, because I won't do it. If you have been around the business as long as my family has, I am sure you can understand why.
